4. Cookies and Other Tracking Technologies

How We Use Cookies

Like many other companies, we use cookies and other tracking technologies (collectively, "Cookies"). Cookies are small files of information that are stored by your web browser software on your computer hard drive, mobile, or other devices.

We use Cookies to:

- Estimate audience size and usage patterns;
- Understand and save your preferences for future visits, allowing us to customize the Sites to your individual needs;
- Advertise new content and services that relate to your interests;
- Keep track of advertisements and search engine results;
- Provide security and protection from spam and bots;
- Compile aggregate data about traffic and interactions on the Sites to resolve issues and offer better experiences and tools in the future; and
- Recognize when you return to the Sites.

We set some Cookies ourselves, while separate entities set other Cookies. We use Cookies other entities set to provide us with useful information, to help us improve our Site, to conduct advertising, and to analyze the effectiveness of advertising. Some of the analytics cookies we use include Google Analytics and Hotjar.

Google Analytics

We use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. Google Analytics uses Cookies to help us analyze how users interact with the Sites and Services, compile reports on their activity, and provide other services related to their activity and usage. The technologies used by Google may collect information such as your IP address, time of visit, whether you are a returning visitor, and any referring website. The information generated by Google Analytics will be transmitted to and stored by Google and will be subject to Google's privacy policies. To learn more about Google's partner services and to learn how to opt out of tracking of analytics by Google, click here.

How You Can Opt-Out of Cookies

When you first visit our Site, we will present you with a banner that offers you choices about whether to accept or reject nonessential cookies or tracking technologies. If you wish to change your Cookie preferences, you can do so by clicking the collapsed icon in the corner of the page.

You can also block Cookies by changing your Internet browser settings to refuse all or some Cookies. If you choose to block all Cookies (including essential Cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of the Site. Learn more about Cookies and how to manage them by visiting www.AboutCookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org.

You can also opt out of Cookies set by specific entities by following the instructions found at these links:

- Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/about/ads
- Google: https://adssettings.google.com

Finally, you can learn which entities have currently enabled Cookies for your browser or mobile device and how to opt out of some of those Cookies by accessing the Network Advertising Initiative's website or the Digital Advertising Alliance's website. For more information on mobile specific opt-out choices, visit the Network Advertising Initiative's Mobile Choices website.

Please note these opt-out mechanisms are specific to the device or browser on which they are exercised. Therefore, you will need to opt out on every browser and device that you use.

5. Universal Opt-Out Mechanisms

The Sites recognize the Global Privacy Control ("GPC") signal. If you are using a browser setting or plug-in that sends an opt-out preference signal to each website you visit, we will treat that as a valid request to opt out. To download and use a browser supporting the GPC browser signal, click here: https://globalprivacycontrol.org/orgs. If you choose to use the GPC signal, you will need to turn it on for each supported browser or browser extension you use.

Some internet browsers incorporate a "Do Not Track" feature that signals to websites you visit that you do not want to have your online activity tracked. Given that there is not a uniform way that browsers communicate the "Do Not Track" signal, the Sites do not currently interpret, respond to, or alter its practices when it receives "Do Not Track" signals.

6. Security

We maintain commercially reasonable security measures to protect the personal data we collect and store from loss, misuse, destruction, or unauthorized access. However, no security measure or modality of data transmission over the Internet is 100% secure. Although we strive to use commercially acceptable means to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee absolute security.

7. Data Retention

We retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which we collect it, such as to provide you with the service you have requested, and for the purpose of satisfying any legal, accounting, contractual, or reporting requirements that apply to us.

8. Third-Party Links

The Sites may contain links that will let you leave the Sites and access another website. Linked websites are not under our control. We accept no responsibility or liability for these other websites.

9. Children's Privacy

The Sites are not intended for children under 18 years of age. We do not knowingly collect, use, or disclose personal data from individuals under 18.

10. Your Privacy Rights – United States

Depending on the state in which you reside, you may have certain privacy rights regarding your personal data. For example, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Oregon, Texas, and other states have passed privacy laws. If you are a California resident, please see our "Notice to California Residents" section below. For other state residents, your privacy rights may include (if applicable):

- The right to obtain a list of specific third parties to which we have disclosed personal data.
- The right to obtain a list of categories of third parties to which we have disclosed your personal data;

- If, as a Minnesota resident, your personal data is profiled in furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects concerning you, the rights to question the result of the profiling, to be informed of the reason that the profiling resulted in the decision, and, if feasible, to be informed of what actions you might have taken to secure a different decision (and the actions that you might take to secure a different decision in the future). If applicable, you also have the right to review the personal data used in the profiling and, if the decision is determined to have been based upon inaccurate personal data, the right to have the data corrected and the profiling decision reevaluated based upon the corrected data;

We use Cookies to display advertisements about our products to you on nonaffiliated websites, applications, and online services. This is "targeted advertising" under applicable privacy laws. When we engage in those activities, we "sell" personal data (i.e., share information from cookies) to third-party advertisers and analytics companies as defined by certain privacy laws, but we do not receive monetary gain from this sharing of data. We also do not use personal data for profiling in furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects concerning individuals.

To exercise your rights, please submit a request via email at legal@raftrx.com or physical mail at the address provided in our "How to Contact Us" section. If legally required, we will comply with your request upon verification of your identity and, to the extent applicable, the identity of the individual on whose behalf you are making such request. 11. Notice to California Residents

The California Consumer Privacy Act, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 ("CCPA"), requires that we provide California residents with a privacy policy that contains a comprehensive description of our online and offline practices regarding the collection, use, disclosure, sale, sharing, and retention of personal information and of the rights of California residents regarding their personal information. This section of the Privacy Policy is intended solely for, and is applicable only as to, California residents. If you are not a California resident, this section does not apply to you and you should not rely on it.

The CCPA defines "personal information" to mean information that identifies, relates to, describes, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular California resident or household. Personal information does not include publicly available, deidentified or aggregated information or lawfully obtained, truthful information that is a matter of public concern. For purposes of this "Notice to California Residents" section we will refer to this information as "Personal Information."

In addition to the purposes stated in the "How We Use Your Personal Data" section, we currently collect and have collected the above categories of Personal Information for the following business or commercial purposes:

- Auditing related to counting ad impressions to unique visitors, verifying positioning and quality of ad impressions, and auditing compliance with this specification and other standards
- Helping to ensure security and integrity to the extent the use of your Personal Information is reasonably necessary and proportionate for these purposes
- Debugging to identify and repair errors that impair existing intended functionality
- Short-term, transient use, including, but not limited to, non-personalized advertising shown as part of your current interaction with us, provided that your Personal Information is not disclosed to another third party and is not used to build a profile about you or otherwise alter your experience outside the current interaction with us

Sale, Sharing, and Disclosure of Personal Information

The CCPA defines "sale" as the transfer of Personal Information for monetary or other valuable consideration. Although we do not "sell" Personal Information as that term may be commonly interpreted, we engage in online activities that may constitute a sale or a share of Personal Information under California law. This may include showing you advertisements on other websites.

We do not knowingly collect or sell/share the Personal Information of consumers under 16 years of age. We do not collect or process sensitive Personal Information for the purpose of inferring characteristics about individuals and, consequently, do not use sensitive Personal Information or use it for purposes other than those allowed by the CCPA and its regulations.

If you are a California resident, you have the following rights with respect to your Personal Information:

- The right to know what Personal Information we have collected about you, including the categories of Personal Information, the categories of sources from which we collected Personal Information, the business or commercial purpose for collecting, selling or sharing Personal Information (if applicable), the categories of third parties to whom we disclose Personal Information (if applicable), and the specific pieces of Personal Information we collected about you;

Our Process for Verifying a Request to Know, Delete, and/or Correct

We will comply with your request upon verification of your identity and, to the extent applicable, the identity of the California resident on whose behalf you are making such request. Our verification process may differ depending on whether you maintain a password-protected account with us. If you maintain a password-protected account, we may verify your identity through existing authentication practices available through your account. Prior to disclosing or deleting the Personal Information, we will ask you to re-authenticate yourself with respect to that account. If you do not maintain a password-protected account, or if you are an account-holder but we suspect fraudulent or malicious activity with your account, we will verify your identity either to a "reasonable degree of certainty" or a "reasonably high degree of certainty" depending on the sensitivity of the Personal Information and the risk of harm to you by unauthorized disclosure, deletion, or correction as applicable. To do so, we will ask you to verify data points based on information we have in our records concerning you.
